

HOMEWORK

MPS is committed to a rigorous educational program for all students, with high standards for teaching and learning. Thoughtfully designed lessons may not always be able to be accomplished fully in the classroom environment, and teachers may assign classwork to be finished out of class. MPS believes that classwork beyond the school day will support classroom lessons and may be necessary to complete the curriculum.

Assignments may be required to be finished outside of class but will not be a standalone grade. Rigorous learning in the classroom does not mean that classwork must be assigned every night. Extensions of class work is not to be used to teach new content or as a form of punishment.

There are many other learning activities in the life of a student. Participation in school based co-curricular activities, pursuing cultural interests, participating in clubs, sports, part-time employment, and family life are also valued by our community.
